THE BUSINESS CASE FOR GIVING

The case for businesses to consider a philanthropic giving program, whatever the size or scope, has never been stronger.

Is there any question that if given the choice, 99 percent of the workforce would prefer to be affiliated with organizations that give back to the communities where they are rooted? What are the chances that a customer, confronted by a decision to buy from an organization with a reputation for giving and community involvement, or a second more aloof and disengaged, wouldn't rather buy from the first? And how far out of the way would we go as customers, to patronize a business that we view as a good citizen? And how long does a brand advantage like that keep us coming back?

When the subject of volunteerism, philanthropy, or mentoring comes up at the neighborhood holiday party or summer cook out, are there very many of us so modest or disconnected that we won't speak in positive, even glowing terms about our own company's commitments and good works, up and down the chain of command? How many of us wouldn't share our own experiences with giving back, should our employer be far-sighted enough to make options to contribute meaningfully available? Come to think of it, wouldn't some of us lead the conversation, eager to tell our story, and share our experiences with giving back?

Whatever you call it, and however we do it, giving is good business. And more and more, it is clear that businesses, and their engaged workforces can be catalysts for the change that we all want to see in our communities. We hope that when it comes to how you might deploy your money, and your time and focus to a giving program, that this year's Giving Guide will prove a useful tool. In it you will find great organizations that serve our market in many ways, and however your company chooses to express philanthropic efforts, you will likely find partners here whose missions and visions are highly resonant with your own.

Enjoy!

BUILDING STRONGER COMMUNITIES TOGETHER

For the more than 200 years that we've been in business at The Hartford, we have believed in being the best neighbor possible. We are proud to call Hartford our home, and as a corporate citizen with a major presence in the area, we take seriously the important role that we play in the region's continued development and growth while making sure that everyone benefits from this growth.

As a leader in the insurance industry, our focus is on supporting people in their time of need and ensuring they have a better tomorrow by planning for risks and protecting what's important. We view our corporate citizenship in much the same light. We believe in our obligation to cultivate collaborative partnerships with community organizations and local residents, encourage employee volunteerism, and develop programs that have the power to deliver sustainable results and improve the quality of life for citizens.

Whether it's helping to support achievement in our local schools, visibly improving our neighborhoods, or educating school children about fire safety, The Hartford and its community partners are dedicated to making a positive impact. We are also proud to have committed employees across our organization who contribute to charitable, environmental, and other philanthropic programs, both in Hartford and across the country. So far this year, our employees in Connecticut have volunteered nearly 30,000 hours, serving more than 300 non-profit organizations.

But there is always more to be done. Commitment and coordination between local corporations, non-profits and community leaders can help us collectively determine where best to not only direct our philanthropic efforts, and perhaps more importantly, where to contribute our time and expertise to have a lasting positive impact.

We are proud to stand among those who do the same and encourage and welcome other members of the Hartford business community to make a lasting contribution to our hometown, and make Hartford an even better place to live and work.

Christopher J. Swift
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Hartford

90 YEARS TOGETHER FOR GOOD

In 1925, two bankers had a vision: establish a community-wide charitable endowment that would accept "gifts, devises and bequests" to serve as a trustworthy, steadfast and responsive charitable resource to the community forever.

The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving has come a long way in 90 years, and throughout our history, we have been committed to building and advancing thriving communities in our region. Charitable assets that grew from a single bequest of $1,000 now total more than $934 million. The Foundation began grantmaking in 1936, awarding their entire budget of $982.52 to the Watkinson Library, currently housed at Trinity College. In 2014, we awarded $32.6 million to more than 600 area nonprofits, including support to advance educational equity and opportunity in the region's most challenging school districts.

Our 90th year has been an eventful one. In collaboration with WNPR, we launched Words to Give By, our community-wide storytelling project, where nearly 200 residents recorded stories of everyday generosity. Eight regional partners and the Hartford Foundation published the second edition of Metro Hartford Progress Points, focusing on three key challenges to our region: access to quality schools, better jobs and stronger neighborhoods. We continue to support efforts to provide our young people with opportunities to develop more solid career pathways by investing in programs that expose them to a variety of career and educational possibilities.

Having an impact like this takes collaboration, partnership and a long-term view of success. Tackling the issues we face is only possible when dedicated donors, engaged nonprofits, volunteers and families come together with a common vision: helping to create thriving communities.

Building a thriving community takes patience, tenacity and hope. Looking toward the future, we ask ourselves — what will the next 90 years at the Hartford Foundation look like? While there is no clear answer, one thing is certain: we will be here working hard to advance the Greater Hartford region for generations to come.

President
Hartford Foundation for Public Giving

SUPPORTING HEALTHY COMMUNITIES

Harvard Pilgrim Health Care — serving members in Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, and New Hampshire — is committed to improving the health of the communities we serve.

We are proud to extend the work of the Harvard Pilgrim Health Care Foundation — and the collective community engagement of our 1360 employees — to benefit Hartford and other areas of the state.

Harvard Pilgrim is engaging our members, employer customers, providers and our communities to help improve the way people eat. The Foundation has been active in working to encourage healthy eating and active living, and funding initiatives to bring fresh, healthy and local produce to inner city residents through community gardens and a mobile farmers market. The Foundation also enlists the support of Harvard Pilgrim staff to serve our local communities by working with local partners on service days in the Hartford area. And, our mini-grant program enables each of our employees to direct $500 annually to a local charity of their choice, in memory of Harvard Pilgrim members who lost their lives on September 11, 2001.

As a company, we have also made inclusion a strategic business initiative, one in which we value difference and believe we create value through difference.

As our presence continues to grow in Connecticut, we've enjoyed working with several Hartford-area agencies and we look forward to building on these relationships to help improve the health of the entire Hartford community.

NON-PROFIT, FOR-PROFIT — WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

How is it that a business journal focuses on non-profit organizations in every edition and in this special publication once a year? While part of the answer is that the Hartford Business Journal demonstrates good corporate citizenship by raising awareness of non-profits in our community, I think it is also because they understand the value non-profits bring to our region.

By definition, a non-profit organization is a non-business entity that uses its surplus revenues to further its purpose or mission, rather than distributing its surplus income to its directors or owners as profit or dividends.

I define it as a business where revenue, just like for-profits, has to exceed expenses. However, it is a business with customers who, more than likely, cannot afford to pay for its services. Therefore, the non-profit has to demonstrate a greater value to society in order to find the revenues to stay in business. Non-profits play a significant role in our economy representing ten percent of Connecticut's workforce alone. Nationally, if the non-profit sector were a country, it would be the seventh largest economy in the world, according to the National Council of Nonprofits. The impact of and critical role played by non-profits is unquestionable.

This publication celebrates those businesses that are deemed non-profit, that are providing value to our friends, neighbors, relatives, maybe even to ourselves and the corporations, foundations and individuals who are making it possible for those services to continue to be delivered. For United Way that means we can continue to support programs and initiatives that help children to read on grade level so that they are set on the path to graduating high school, college and career ready. It means we can support ALICE households — the one in three families in Connecticut — who are struggling financially to make ends meet. And continue to provide a safety net of emergency services — food, shelter, crisis counseling — when needed.

Kudos to the Hartford Business Journal for recognizing the role our non-profit businesses — as well as our for-profit businesses — play in the quality of life in our region.

The Three Legged Stool

In my high school civics class in the 1960s I was taught that the American organizational structure should be thought of as a “three legged stool.”

It is a simple metaphor: we stand collectively on three legs (or sectors), with each leg (or sector) responsible for the fulfillment of discrete tasks which are necessary conditions for the system to function. Optimal practical performance is achieved when each leg (sector) performs its tasks well and does not unduly interfere with the other legs (sectors) which are better suited for their tasks. Optimal practical performance is a derivative of the balance achieved when each leg is the same functional length.

One leg of the stool is the private or businesses sector, which has responsibility for the creation and sale of goods and services profitably, and which produces employment, value and wealth. The second is the governmental sector which creates and enforces law and provides public services such as police, transportation, and fire protection. The third is the intermediate sector which fills the gap between the other two — consisting of nonprofit associations involved in everything from youth sports to churches and colleges, and (my topic) state funded human service nonprofits which attend to the disabled, the mentally ill, children and families, the homeless, and others in crisis.

This discussion is relevant to the 2015 issue of the Giving Guide because there is a systemic imbalance in Connecticut caused by a governmental sector that has grown too large, inefficient, and expensive. The growth in the governmental leg has come at the expense of the other two and has brought us to a fiscal tipping point — a point at which a paradigm shift or realignment is necessary if balance is to be restored — a point at which the nonprofit and business sectors have a common interest in working together to right the ship.

The story starts with a previous paradigm shift in the 1960s, when cultural changes caused the government to become directly involved in the delivery of social services — an area that had historically been the domain of privately financed nonprofit organizations. For example, the Department of Children and Families (DCF) was created in 1969, and the Department of Developmental Services (DDS) in 1975.

State involvement brought tax revenue and resources to the table, and in Connecticut a two track service system evolved: existing and newly created nonprofits entered into fee for services contracts with governmental agencies under which the nonprofits were paid to provide services, and the state agencies administered the contracting system with the nonprofits while also providing services directly with their own personnel, a manner competitive with the nonprofits.

This nonprofit-government duopoly worked well for a while, and the nonprofits naturally aligned with government because it provided their funding (with tax dollars) — which lessened or eliminated the burden of private fundraising. This arrangement caused many nonprofits to adopt a pro-tax and slightly anti-business political stance for reasons as obvious as they are unfortunate.

However, the marriage started to hit the rocks in the early 1990s as government grew in the manner endemic to bureaucratic entities generally — accreting a centralized form of control over the nonprofit providers by turning their funding contracts into a form of indentured servitude, layering down duplicative administrative and regulatory requirements that kept governmental employees busy and nonprofits spinning their wheels, and, most importantly, reducing and then virtually freezing the amounts actually paid to the nonprofits under the fee for service contracts — to the point that for over a decade their employees have fallen well below the “living wage” standard frequently used these days — in contrast to the generous wage and benefit scales of state employees who do the same work and whose jobs sit safely deep within the belly of the bureaucracies.

Let me give two examples of the problems government involvement in the social services arena has wrought.

One is the Southbury Training School (a state facility) where 290 people with intellectual disabilities are cared for by 1,774 state employees at an annual cost per person of $262,000. Nonprofits could provide the same care at a fraction of the cost, and the money freed up could be used to help people on waiting lists and bring fairness to nonprofit wage scales.

Second, in the 2015 legislative session the nonprofits were the victims of a bait and switch. The need for tax increases was sold to the public as necessary to maintain the social safety net, and the nonprofits lobbied hard to make this case only to have the new tax revenue soaked up by the liabilities on the state’s underwater balance sheet — leaving the nonprofits standing in place and feeling foolish.

The governmental leg occupies the space between an overtaxed and overregulated private sector and a starving and overregulated nonprofit sector. The nonprofit and the private sectors have a common interest not only in cutting the governmental leg back down to size, but in recognizing that each is an equally important pillar standing in support of a system that has fallen out of balance for the reasons stated. A vibrant private sector creating jobs and growth is as vital to us as a nonprofit sector that attends to human issues that will always be with us. Such is the nature of the paradigm shift we so sorely need.

OUR MISSION: The American Red Cross prevents and alleviates human suffering in the face of emergencies by mobilizing the power of volunteers and the generosity of our donors.

The American Red Cross is where people mobilize to help their neighbors — across the street, across the country, and across the world — in emergencies. Each year, across the nation in communities large and small, victims of some 70,000 disasters turn to neighbors — the more than half a million volunteers and more than 31,000 employees of the Red Cross for help. An average of more than 7 million people a year receive Red Cross training in first aid, water safety and other skills that help save lives. In Connecticut, we helped victims of more than 850 disasters with a team of 28 paid and more than 3,000 volunteer staff. We reached more than 67,000 people with training in First Aid, CPR, Lifeguard training, Babysitter training, Community Disaster Education programs and more. We are also actively installing free smoke alarms across the state as part of the Red Cross Home Fire Preparedness Campaign to reduce the number of deaths and injuries due to home fires. In addition, we helped nearly 600 Connecticut military families with emergency communications, counseling services and emergency financial assistance. And our volunteers supported thousands of blood drives where more than 120,000 units of life-saving blood were collected.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

The American Red Cross has special events throughout the year. You can support our statewide events by sponsoring or attending our Red, White & YOU Ball or our Fairfield County Heroes Breakfast. OUR MISSION: The Anti-Defamation League was founded “to stop the defamation of the Jewish people and to secure justice and fair treatment to all.” Now the nation’s premier civil rights/human relations agency, ADL fights all forms of bigotry, defends democratic ideals and protects civil rights for all.

In 1913, anti-Semitism and other forms of bigotry, hate and discrimination was rampant in society, creating the need for a civil rights organization committed to securing justice and fair treatment for all people. Thus the Anti-Defamation League was founded. Although progress has been made, ADL begins its second century knowing that our work remains necessary, timely and relevant. Extremist hatred and threats, discrimination against marginalized groups and bias in our communities still need to be addressed. The theme to our second century is Imagine a World Without Hate — a dream we hope to make a reality.

ADL is dedicated to making our country a more inclusive home for all; where being different is not a liability, and diversity is a cherished strength. ADL believes that the best way to end hate is through education programs. As a leading provider of anti-bias training and resources, the ADL’s A WORLD OF DIFFERENCE® Institute offers innovative programming for schools to develop a comprehensive approach to prevent and intervene against name-calling, bullying and cyberbullying as part of a broader strategy to create safe schools for all students where they learn to not only stand up for themselves but for others as well.

Acknowledged as a premier civil rights and human relations agency, ADL is headquartered in New York and fulfills its mission through a network of 27 Regional Offices (including Connecticut) and an office in Israel. We are uniquely positioned to provide resources and programs to counter hatred, promote diversity and build bridges of communication, understanding and respect among diverse groups. ADL serves as a resource for government, media, law enforcement, educators and the public.

Join us in taking action against hate and bigotry. Together, we will continue to change hearts and minds ... one student, one classroom, one family, one community at a time.

GOALS

- Increase the number of board, civil rights and education committee members who will actively work with us to promote ADL’s mission throughout the state and serve as our “eyes and ears” in the local community.
- Raise additional dollars to support and expand our essential programs and services throughout the state of Connecticut.
- Advocate for legislative reform on issues of bias, discrimination and hate.

- Attract the support and involvement of corporations that value inclusion and diversity.
- Inform educators and parents about ADL’s free downloadable resources which address issues of bias and bullying using current events.
- Serve as a resource for law enforcement officials on hate groups, extremism and domestic terrorism by providing training and sharing our publications.
- Provide training to students and adults for how to address anti-Semitic speech and incidents.
- Insure the security of Jewish communal institutions.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

Currently ADL holds 4 annual fundraising events in different communities across the state which includes: Greater Hartford, Greater New Haven, Upper and Lower Fairfield County. Event sponsorships are available starting at $1500 and above as well as individual tickets. Sponsors at the $10,000 and above level are recognized at each event as a statewide sponsor. For over 50 years the Capital City Education Alliance, formerly the GHJC Foundation, has awarded over $16 million to area nonprofits. Today, with a new identity and our education-focused mission, we will play a powerful role by generating and distributing resources through matching funds to educational organizations, while providing programming that makes a real difference in the lives of greater Hartford students.

In the greater Hartford area, demand for services is growing at a time when educational funding is tight. Schools are simply no longer institutions of learning; they have become providers of basic human needs and centers for stability and hope.

Schools are often unable to meet the needs of too many of their students. For over 50 years the Capital City Education Alliance (CCEA), formerly the Greater Hartford Jaycees Foundation, has funneled over $16 million to area nonprofits. Today, with our new identity and our education-focused mission, we will continue to play a powerful role in the area. The CCEA will generate and distribute resources through matching funds to community educational organizations, while providing programming and volunteers to make a real difference in the lives of children.

We believe that investing in our students today, ensures a better city and a better world for tomorrow

GOALS

- Build brand awareness of our new name and focus
- License and test market a nonprofit successfully operating in a city similar to Hartford
- Engage individuals to participate in our new programming

- Start building relationships with corporate entities that could provide funding and/or volunteers
- Continue to develop relationships with educational organizations around the greater Hartford area for potential collaboration
- Continue to support area nonprofits through our silent auction ticket donation program

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

Our expected licensing arrangement will require in-kind contributions of paint and painting supplies as well as meal donations for program participants.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

We are looking for groups of 10-15 people who would like to volunteer as a team one Saturday morning for about 4 hours. Team volunteerism can help build strong interpersonal connections with workers while providing a mentoring opportunity with students. We recognize that many individuals are very busy and this provides the perfect opportunity for episodic volunteerism — volunteer when it is convenient for you, not on some set schedule.

TOP FUNDING SOURCES

As we transition to our new organization, our funding sources will change. In the past, we supported area nonprofits with investment income from our endowment. We have just started fund raising activities with companies, private donors, and grants.

It is so wonderful that the CCEA helped with this event today. Getting these school supplies for my three kids makes going back to school more affordable. Plus, the entertainment and cook out are fun for my kids. It really makes a difference for my family. Thank you.

We need gardeners/gardening groups at 3 of our locations.

Ebony Horsecowomen, Inc.

337 Vine Street, Hartford, CT 06112 | 860-293-2914
www.ebonyhorsecowomen.us

OUR MISSION: The mission and goal of Ebony Horsecowomen, Inc. is to use the Equine Assisted Therapy, Growth and Learning approach to build leaders, deter destructive behaviors and increase academic achievement in urban youth.

Ebony Horsecowomen offers youth an opportunity to find themselves — to heal and grow. Animals help humans be more human, they help to develop a conscious, empathy and care about lives, especially their own. When children have been battered by environmental conditions, i.e. poverty, crime, low community pride and culture, they grow without boundaries and a sense of structure and order. When these values are introduced they fight against them as an affront to their existence. This type of disorder affects the health and the psyche (mind) of the child. He/she does poorly in school, he/she is disruptive in the community. Unfortunately, in too many cases, the parents suffer from the same conditions with the same responses. The affect of these assaults causes wide-spread damage across the entire current and future life of the child, unless interrupted and addressed. Ebony Horsecowomen establishes structure and order, through animals. The farm environment demands hard work — out doors and sometimes in difficult weather. It causes youth to think and not react. These animals must be taken care of — we owe them this. Farm life develops a solid work ethic, responsibility and accountability. Farm life takes children from a sedentary existence in front of a phone or TV into real life of chores and tasks and earning privileges and not just receiving them for no apparent reason. Farm life builds the body while the animals heal the soul. Now the child has a chance to succeed.

GOALS

- Increase revenues and decrease expenditures
- Retire horses who have served us well and need rest
- Repair and refurbish the current facility to accommodate the comfort and functionality of our Animal Sciences and other classes.
- Buy a tractor for farm work and snow removal
- Obtain younger, fresher horses to replace the retiring ones

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

Ebony Horsecowomen, Inc. has done a Spring Festival and Country Fair 11 years in a row, in May or June; a Halloween Safe Night

every year on Halloween so the neighborhood youth will have a safe place to have fun that night; and an annual Hay Appeal at the beginning of the Winter requesting donations towards food for the horses. Businesses and the public can contribute to these events through in-kind donations or cash donations. Donations can be made by mail, PayPal (through our website www.ebonyhorsecowomen.us), or by cash in person. Donations may be made for a specific purpose, i.e. a new bridle for a certain horse, or as a sponsorship for a particular youth, or for general use.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Anyone can volunteer with EHI, we consistently have youth doing community service as required by the various schools, or simply volunteering to work with the animals. Adults can also volunteer, either individually, or as a group. Adults and youth may also do court-ordered community service at EHI, depending upon the offense. A call or email to our office to request the required volunteer/community service paperwork is all it takes.

We are 55 staff people, two facilities, 6,500 volunteers, 300 local partner programs, dozens of food industry donors, and thousands of supporters all sharing one vision: when our friends and neighbors fall on hard times, we are there to help them, with food, with a hand up, with hope for the future.

Above all, we are a community organization. Solving hunger is everybody's business, and everyone is getting involved. Your local grocery store is donating food; your neighbors are gathering in Hunger Action Teams that find innovative local solutions to poverty and hunger; the food pantry at the church down the street from you is providing job training, money coaching, and a case manager for people in need; and businesses, from downtown corporations to your local hardware store, are donating funds to make it all work.

Now it's your turn.

I work as a crossing guard in West Hartford, and a year ago I had colon cancer. My husband left me last year when I was half way through my recovery, and it has been a struggle every day since then. I have sworn that when I am back on my feet I am going to volunteer for the Foodshare program, but until then, I can only say thank you for everything your organization has done to help me and so many others.

— Susan Hodge, West Hartford

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

A Turkey and Thirty (November) — Foodshare's Annual Turkey and Thirty campaign benefits tens of thousands of local, working-poor families in need. A donation of a turkey and $30 ensures a traditional holiday meal as well as additional support to make it through the challenging winter months. For more information visit www.ATurkeyand30.org.

Foodshare Walk Against Hunger (First Sunday in May) — This annual event attracts thousands of supporters rallying against hunger in both Hartford and Tolland counties. The Walk is Connecticut's largest anti-hunger fundraising event, and in 2015, walkers raised $636,000 for the fight against hunger. In addition to individual walkers, businesses sponsor the event and host teams.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

Each year Foodshare has an annual appeal, as well as ongoing fundraising efforts all year. We also welcome in-kind gifts of all kinds, including goods and services. Foodshare has a four-star rating from Charity Navigator, meaning, among other things, that more than 94% of the food bank's resources directly support hunger-relief programs.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Here at Foodshare, we rely on a whole community of donors, regional leaders, staff, advocates, and volunteers. In 2014, more than 6,500 individuals gave an amount of time equivalent to 27 additional full time employees. Their hard work resulted in more than 12 million meals worth of food being distributed in the most cost-effective way possible!

Whatever your interest or skill, we can put it to good use.

"Hi, just wanted to say what a great time I had on today's build in Bristol. Having 2 of the 3 homeowners there was really nice. It was a hot, sunny day of hard work but everyone had a good attitude. Can't wait for the next individual build day at Bristol or the other sites. Thanks for reminding me why I've done Habitat for so many years — learning new skills, meeting new people, an honest day's work, and helping members of our community. Doesn't get better than that!"

Together for good.®

OUR MISSION: Putting philanthropy into action to create lasting solutions that result in vibrant communities within the Greater Hartford region.

The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving provides financial and other support to enable individuals and institutions to serve the community. The Foundation promotes informed charitable giving and participates actively in efforts to identify key community needs and opportunities, as well as the means to address them.

GOALS

The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving is a catalyst for the Greater Hartford community. We unite often divergent groups for a greater goal: to enable all within the 29-town region we serve to thrive. We think big, take appropriate risks and invest for the long term, aiming for systemic solutions that ensure that everyone, and in particular our children, are given every opportunity to succeed.

- As a philanthropic leader in Greater Hartford, we bring individuals and organizations together, coalesce their efforts, and spur them to action through grantmaking, professional training and innovation.
- As a community collaborator and catalyst, we walk the walk, modeling equity and diversity, and setting high standards for inclusion.
- As a responsive participant in the community, we ardently support new ideas and new ways of working to address the most pressing needs in the communities we serve.
- As an earnest supporter of education to build an informed and self-sustaining society, we embrace learning in all its forms and for all who seek it.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

Anyone can create a fund or contribute to an existing fund that best suits that person's circumstances, goals for giving, and desire for involvement. Unrestricted funds allow donors to authorize the Hartford Foundation to use the fund's income for grants wherever the greatest needs arise. Donor-advised funds allow donors to consult with the Foundation's experienced program staff for guidance on effective grants in their areas of interest and to recommend specific grants. A donor may also create a fund to support a favorite organization, cause, community and/or population. Visit www.hfpg.org for comprehensive information on how you can make a difference.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Volunteers from the public and business communities serve on various advisory committees, providing guidance to the Foundation on issues related to charitable giving, scholarships, and finance and investment.

Jessica Winkler, RN, nurse manager, NeuroSurgical Critical Care; Michele Kolios, RN, director, Critical Care Nursing; and Eric Shore, MD, director, Medical Intensive Care Unit are part of the team behind the new intensive care unit made possible through a gift from an anonymous donor. The new intensive care unit, which opened to patients in June, includes 16 rooms that provide state-of-the-art equipment and offer a special place for family members to comfortably spend quality time with their loved one.

Giving makes us all healthier.

Looking after the health and wellness of the people in our region takes a lot of resources. It is especially challenging in these unpredictable economic times. That is why we are thankful for the generous donors who support Hartford Hospital in our mission to provide every patient we serve with the highest-quality healthcare available. Contributions from donors help in so many ways, from funding new technology and special training for our caregivers to supporting prevention programs and the modernization of our facilities. It takes a lot to care for the people in our communities. We are grateful to those who give.

In 2015 LIFE STAR celebrated 30 years of helping to save lives. Since its launch in 1985, the state's first critical care helicopter service has transported more than 20,000 people to tertiary care facilities within its 150-mile response radius; approximately 1,200 patients are transported annually. LIFE STAR crews consist of a flight nurse, flight respiratory therapist, pilot, mechanic, and a communication specialist.

Hartford Hospital is one of the largest tertiary care centers and teaching hospitals in New England. It is a member of Hartford HealthCare. Among its divisions is the Institute of Living, a 114-bed mental health facility with an international reputation of excellence, and Jefferson House, a 104-bed long-term care facility. Major centers of clinical excellence include cardiology, oncology, emergency services and trauma, mental health, women's health, orthopaedics, bloodless surgery, and advanced organ transplantation. The hospital is at the forefront of robotic surgery with eight da Vinci surgical robots, and it operates the state's first air ambulance system, LIFE STAR.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

The Black & Red is Hartford Hospital's signature fund-raiser. Since 1992, through sponsorships and ticket sales, the evening of dining and entertainment has raised more than $10 million to benefit hospital programs. The 2016 gala, scheduled for February 6 at The Bushnell and featuring Chicago, will benefit the Hartford HealthCare Bone & Joint Institute at Hartford Hospital.

Through fundraising events, the Hartford Hospital Auxiliary provides gifts to the hospital community totaling several hundred thousand dollars each year. In addition, community fund-raising events, ranging from golf tournaments to road races, directly support the services the hospital provides to the community.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

We are broadening our facilities and resources to meet the demands of the rapidly changing healthcare environment. The capstone of this plan is a state-of-the-art Bone & Joint Institute. Designed to be the premier musculoskeletal center in the region, the institute will transform care while increasing the hospital's value to the larger patient population. The institute's new home will free up space across campus, allowing modernization of operating rooms and intensive care units and enabling an increase in private rooms from the current 55 percent to over 75 percent.

The hospital is mounting a major capital campaign to raise the dollars required to fund the Bone & Joint Institute and to renovate the Brownstone community clinic and the Center for Education, Simulation and Innovation, among other critical clinical areas. The campaign planning committee, chaired by George Estes, has begun seeking early gifts.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Nearly 1,200 people volunteer in 241 areas of the hospital and the Institute of Living. They perform nearly 106,000 hours of service, equivalent to 52 full-time employees and more than $3 million in salaries. To learn more about volunteer opportunities, go to www.harthosp.org/Careers/Volunteer/Opportunities or call 860.972.2198.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

The annual Buddy Bash celebration will be held on Friday, September 16th, at our campsite in Farmington. Come dressed to impress in your finest swim-inspired garb and help us celebrate the end of an amazing summer and the completion of our new pool. More than 400 special guests made the journey to Camp in 2015 for our construction-themed event, helping raise more than $175,000 for Hartford's kids. The evening featured lavish hors d'oeuvres provided by 14 of the region's finest restaurants, delicious brews and cocktails, great entertainment and exciting silent auction items. The Buddy Bash also honors one organization and one individual who have made helping children a priority in their lives. The 2015 award winners were Gabe Jiran of Shipman and Goodwin and the Travelers Championship.

Organizations or individuals looking to support the Buddy Bash can do so by becoming a sponsor, buying a ticket to the event, donating in-kind services (printing, tables, chairs, linens, etc.), donating live and silent auction items, or donating food or drinks for the event. All of the food, drinks, entertainment and auction items are donated in the name of supporting Hartford's kids.

We hope to see you in September!

OUR MISSION: Created in 1980, The Harvard Pilgrim Health Care Foundation supports Harvard Pilgrim’s mission to improve the quality and value of health care for the people and communities we serve throughout Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts and New Hampshire. Since its inception, the Foundation has provided more than $133 million in grants.

With the help of a Harvard Pilgrim Foundation grant, Becky Coates, Spruce Street Community Garden coordinator, tends one of the raised garden beds, as volunteers help build a shed to store garden equipment.

Receiving the Harvard Pilgrim Health Care Foundation's Healthy Food Fund grant helped the Spruce Street Community Garden in Manchester, CT grow exponentially. With their funding, we installed water tanks, a shed, and hired a coordinator for the garden. Having a dedicated staff member helped us grow from four gardeners to eleven, and we now have more community events and educational opportunities. We believe that the improvements we made, due to the Harvard Pilgrim grant, set the stage for us to receive a Community Development Block Grant that will allow us to continue beautifying our neighborhood and providing residents with access to healthy, local, organic food next year.

– Becky Coates, Spruce Street Community Garden Coordinator, Office of Neighborhoods and Families, Manchester, CT

The Harvard Pilgrim Foundation continues to invest in the Hartford Food System to support the operations of a mobile farmer’s market in Hartford. This program is jointly run with the Hispanic Health Council and brings fresh fruits and vegetables year-round to individuals in need.

This year, to celebrate the creation of the Harvard Pilgrim Healthy Food Fund, the Foundation focused its first round of grants on local garden and community farming programs to increase access to fresh, local food for low- and moderate-income families. Connecticut organizations to which the Foundation provided nearly $46,000 in grants include: Beat the Street Community Center in Meriden, Billings Forge Community Works in Hartford, Boys & Girls Club of Bristol Family Center, Christian Activities Council in Hartford, and the Town of Manchester.

Another stand-out initiative is the Foundation’s mini-grant program. Established to commemorate Harvard Pilgrim members who lost their lives on September 11, 2001, Harvard Pilgrim and the Foundation created a grants program that allows each employee to award a $500 grant, completely funded by the Foundation, to the local charity of his or her choice each year. In 2014, more than $550,000 was distributed through mini-grants to hundreds of nonprofit organizations throughout the region.

GOALS

- Improve the health of the communities that Harvard Pilgrim Health Care serves.

- Continue to increase access to fresh foods for low- and middle-income families.
- Expand opportunities for Harvard Pilgrim Health Care staff to give and serve in local communities.
- Promote Health Equity and Inclusion.
- Create heightened visibility for healthy eating and active living.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Harvard Pilgrim employees improve the communities in which they live and work through Harvard Pilgrim’s Employee Service and Giving initiative. This program enables employees to give and serve through company-sponsored days of volunteering. In May of this year, Harvard Pilgrim Health Care employees joined members of Hands on Hartford for the 2nd annual Employee Service Day at the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Elementary School in Hartford. More than 30 volunteers participated, helping to build a community garden, painting educational murals, and offering clinics and materials that promote fitness and nutrition.

Over the years, Harvard Pilgrim employees — along with partners and members of the business community — have contributed to hundreds of volunteer efforts including improving local schools and camps; donating clothing, school supplies and computer equipment; supporting disaster relief efforts; and serving at community organizations such as soup kitchens and shelters. In 2014, 97% of Harvard Pilgrim employees participated in at least one form of service or giving.

GEOGRAPHIC SERVICE AREA(S)

The Foundation's primary area of focus is the Greater Hartford area; however, our grantmaking extends throughout the world.

TOP FUNDING SOURCES

Donations to JCF come from individuals and families. Donors have the option to name and create a new fund, contribute to an existing fund as well as make an Aim Chai endowment gift.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

The Jewish Community Foundation exists to strengthen the Greater Hartford Jewish community, to assist donors in fulfilling their philanthropic goals and to create lasting and meaningful impact through innovative grant making. The Foundation takes great care in our stewardship of every dollar entrusted to our care.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 2015, the Foundation awarded more than $4.0 million in grants representing an increase of more than $660K over the largest grant making year in the Foundation's history. The $4.0 million was comprised of 909 individual grants, also an all time record, and an increase of 20% over the prior year.

These statistics can be attributed to a number of factors: the Foundation's increasing asset base; an expanded awareness and understanding of the power of endowment; and a growing belief in the ability of philanthropy to make a difference in our community.

Although the Foundation and its donors make grants throughout the United States as well as for important work across the globe, $3.4 million of the total of $4.0 million in grants were awarded to programs and institutions in the Greater Hartford area ($2.41 million specifically to Jewish agencies, synagogues and students) reflecting the Foundation's primary focus on Greater Hartford.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

The Foundation celebrates and encourages choice in giving and donors have a variety of giving options: 1) designated funds are designed to endow specific institutions or programs that matter to a donor; 2) donor advised funds allow donors to make annual recommendations on organizations or programs to support and to take part in the grant making decision process along with the Foundation; 3) unrestricted funds provide general support for areas of the greatest community need, both now and in the future.

Through the Aim Chai endowment campaign, donors can support the community and their own philanthropic interests in perpetuity. Every person has the potential to be a philanthropist and we welcome the opportunity to consult with individuals and families to assist in achieving their unique philanthropic goals.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

The Foundation has a variety of committees led by volunteers that help make key grant making, financial, investment and governance decisions.

The Jewish Community Foundation empowers the philanthropist in all of us. It is the engine through which we can convert our passions into reality. Anyone can make an impact. You, me — we can all make a difference.

OUR MISSION: The mission of the Jordan Porco Foundation is to prevent suicide in the high school, college and college entry student population that is often the end result of significant emotional disorders triggered by stress and/or not recognized within the person until it is too late.

JORDAN PORCO
 — FOUNDATION —

We're in it for life™

Students at Three Rivers Community College participate in Fresh Check Day.

The Jordan Porco Foundation provides mental health awareness and suicide prevention programming for teenagers and young adults. We form partnerships with high schools, two and four year colleges and universities, the military, community organizations, foundations and leading prevention providers to deliver programs that increase awareness of the mental health resources and services available to students. Our goal is to reduce the stigma and misconceptions around mental health and suicide that often deter individuals from seeking help, empower peers to be gatekeepers by understanding the warning signs and knowing what to do if a friend is exhibiting signs of suicide or a mental health concern and increase willingness to ask for help if experiencing emotional distress. Since our inception, tens of thousands of students have engaged in our programming resulting in thousands of depression screenings that have helped identify at risk individuals and led to treatment.

GOALS

- Engage more students in peer to peer support efforts creating communities of inclusiveness.
- Further reduce the stigma associated with mental health and suicide and increase help seeking behaviors.
- Form additional partnerships with leading prevention organizations to compound the impact of our work.
- More than double the number of schools and students participating in our programs and services.

- Increase advocacy efforts to enact legislation supporting suicide prevention training.
- Continue our national expansion to ensure greater visibility of our messaging.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

The Jordan Porco Foundation holds several fundraising events annually that offer plenty of opportunities to be involved in supporting the work of the organization. Whether it's a Together at the Table dinner event or our annual Jordan's Journey Gala celebration at the Mohegan Sun, we welcome your participation. Our events offer nationally renowned mental health subject matter experts with personal experiences that engage audiences in a profound way. The positive feedback we consistently receive from those involved in our events inspires us to work even harder to reach more students and save more lives. We're pleased to support Junior Achievement and serve as financial literacy volunteers in the classroom year after year.

Junior Achievement of Southwest New England, Inc.

70 Farmington Ave., Hartford, CT 06105 | 860-525-4510
www.jaconn.org

OUR MISSION: Junior Achievement empowers young people to own their economic success.

Junior Achievement provides programs during the school day and after school for students in kindergarten through high school that focus on financial responsibility, workforce readiness and entrepreneurship. JA's programs are delivered by volunteers from business and the community who work side by side with classroom teachers to prepare and inspire students for future success.

GOALS

- Expand the number of communities, schools and students served by the organization.
- Increase financial resources and number of classroom volunteers.
- Expand programs that provide even more impact for young people, including JA Company Program where students create an actual company.
- Increase awareness of JA's mission and success in preparing young people for the future.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

Junior Achievement holds many special events during the course of the year. There are sponsorship and volunteer opportunities for all. Please contact Robin Johnson, director of development, at rjohnson@jaconn.org for more information or if you would like to be involved. Here is a summary of our events:

- JA Classic Golf Tournament. This event, held at Tumble Brook Country Club in Bloomfield on June 6, 2016, has been attracting top business leaders for 17 years. Thanks to the event's high-end gift package, great customer service and opportunities for customer entertainment, it has earned a reputation as one of the best charity golf tournaments in New England.
- Business Hall of Fame. This dinner honors men and women whose careers in business and dedication to improving the local community make them an inspiration and role model for young people. There are separate Business Halls of Fame in both Hartford and New Haven. Both high-end events are held in the spring.
- Bowl-a-Thons. This is an opportunity for teams of employees, relatives and friends to enjoy an afternoon or evening of bowling and, by soliciting funds and pledges, raise money to help Junior Achievement. JA hosts several events throughout the year in the Hartford area (including a "Networking" event June 15, 2016) and New Haven area (including a "Networking" event May 10, 2016).
- Partners in Achievement breakfasts. These breakfasts, one in New Haven Nov. 13, 2015 and one in Hartford May 13, 2016, provide an opportunity to learn about the impact JA is having in the local community. Speakers include students, educators, volunteers and donors. The breakfast is free, and those who attend are asked to consider donating to the organization.

JA's programs are fun and engaging for students, helping them learn how to prepare for the world of work, manage money responsibly and think like an entrepreneur.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Junior Achievement relies on volunteers from business and the community to provide its programs to students. Working side by side with classroom teachers, JA volunteers lead students through a series of fun and engaging activities primarily during the school day. JA has designed its programs with an understanding that most individuals face time constraints. Thus, elementary school programs last only five class periods, middle school programs last only six class periods and most high school programs only last seven class periods. All volunteers receive training and detailed guidebooks that provide class scripts, lesson plans and activities designed to make the classroom experience gratifying and successful. Volunteers say they get a deep sense of satisfaction from making a difference in students' lives. Volunteers can participate as a group from a company as a teambuilding exercise or as individuals.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

Individuals and businesses can financially support JA programs in the following ways:

- Sponsor a "JA in A Day" program, in which all students at a local elementary school receive JA programming. Cost: $10,000 to $25,000, depending on the school size.
- Sponsor an entire grade level of JA programs (roughly five programs/classrooms). Cost: $5,000.
- Sponsor one JA classroom program. Cost: $1,000.
- Sponsor one JA student. Cost: $50.

OUR MISSION: Manchester Community College Foundation advances the academic, economic, and personal growth of diverse populations by securing funding to assist the college in achieving its mission and goals through support of programs, scholarships and equipment.

Manchester Community College Foundation, Inc. supports student success at MCC.

GOALS:

MCC Foundation strives to raise awareness of, and major support for, the college's key funding needs and priorities.

Partnerships — Manchester Community College meets the needs of students and stakeholders by leveraging the collective creativity, experience and commitment of the college community and our regional partners. MCC Foundation supports this initiative by:

- Expanding and developing connections with local and national governmental, cultural business and other educational institutions.
- Promoting the work of MCC faculty, staff, students and alumni in the community.
- Developing a culture of philanthropy internally and externally.

MCC's planning focuses on projected areas of workforce growth, and the programs and facilities that will accommodate it. The college has identified the need for nearly 140,000 square feet of additional space to accommodate possible and projected demand.

MCC Foundation aims to increase funding for scholarships, programs and equipment to help offset the fact that:

- Nearly 32 percent of MCC's budget comes from state funding. It is more important now than ever to strengthen philanthropic support of the college.
- Despite MCC's low tuition, more than half of the students who attend rely on financial aid — a number that has seen double-digit increases in recent years.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

Each spring, MCC Foundation hosts the annual Evening of Fine Wines, a signature fundraiser that benefits MCC scholarships and programs. At the 2015 Evening of Fine Wines, nearly $280,000 was donated in support of student success. The 2016 presenting sponsor of Evening of Fine Wines is Adam Jeamel and United Bank Foundation Connecticut, Inc. Individuals or businesses that wish to sponsor the event or give through in-kind gifts or donations can visit www.MCCgiving.org for more information.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES:

Naming Opportunities — Prominent naming opportunities are available across campus and at MCC on Main, Manchester Community College's arts and education center located downtown. Contributions for naming opportunities are investing in the MCC Foundation endowment, where a portion of the interest is then used to meet college needs.

Annual Campaign — MCC Foundation's annual campaign ensures quality support and programming, and guarantee that the educational opportunities at MCC are available for future generations.

Scholarships — Financial assistance in the form of scholarships can make the critical difference for scores of students by helping them meet their financial obligations. Awards in honor of donors or loved ones can be created with criteria based on academic achievement, financial need, service to the college and community, or a combination.

Sponsorship of Events — For more information about program sponsorships or annual events, contact Endia DeCordova at 860-512-2902 or edecordova@manchestercc.edu.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

There are many opportunities at MCC for students, alumni and community members to volunteer their time where their experience and skills can provide a valuable contribution to student success. These include mentoring, tutoring and assisting with planning, preparation and execution of various events.

BY THE AGE OF FOUR,
CHILDREN LIKE JADE FROM
LOW-INCOME FAMILIES HEAR
30 MILLION FEWER WORDS
THAN THEIR MORE AFFLUENT PEERS

WE HAVE A SOLUTION THAT CHANGES THAT—FROM INFANCY

Early exposure to language has a profound effect on a child's ability to learn and succeed. Children like Jade, who hear fewer words, start school developmentally behind their peers and will likely never catch up.

When families read aloud to their young children, they can give them a better start to life. Reach Out and Read doctors give books to children at more than 10 well child checkups from infancy until they start school. More importantly, they encourage families to read aloud to their infants, toddlers and preschoolers every day.

Please join us today to make a difference when it counts.

YOUR GIFT WILL HELP US TO CHANGE THE COURSE OF LIFE FOR A CHILD LIKE JADE

Since 1989, Reach Out and Read doctors have been prescribing books to children during well-child visits and teaching parents the value of reading aloud to their children.

As a result, the children we serve are better prepared to read and learn when they start kindergarten than their non-participating peers.

Visit reachoutandread.org/connecticut to learn how you can help us prescribe opportunity to Connecticut's children, one book at a time.

Reach Out and Read Connecticut

P.O. Box 290, Madison, CT 06443 | 203-980-6430
www.reachoutandread.org/connecticut

where great stories begin™

OUR MISSION: Reach Out and Read strives to close the achievement gap in early childhood. Our doctors prescribe books and reading aloud to help families give their young children the best start in life.

Who We Are

Reach Out and Read is an evidence-based, national organization of medical providers, who make the most of an opportunity to influence the lives of young children at well-child visits. Focusing on low-income families, we empower parents as their children's first teachers to prepare them to enter kindergarten at grade level.

How We Do It

Through 74 clinical locations in Connecticut, Reach Out and Read pediatricians provide parents with personalized, age-appropriate advice about reading at every well-child visit from newborn through 5 years, along with a new book for the child starting at the 6 month visit. We reach nearly 40,000 children and give out 80,000 new books each year.

Why We Do It

- 81% of Connecticut's low-income children are unable to read proficiently by the end of 3rd grade.
- 44% of Connecticut's low-income 3 and 4 year olds do not attend pre-school.
- 44 million adults are functionally illiterate and unable to read a simple story to their children.
- Low literacy costs US taxpayers and businesses more than $225 billion each year, through lost wages, unemployment, welfare, and other government assistance.

Why We Are Effective

- Endorsed by the American Academy of Pediatrics, our program is embedded within the existing medical system, providing us with unparalleled, repeated, one-on-one access to all children and families.
- Pediatricians volunteer their time to deliver our program, which keeps our overhead costs low.
- The book is "prescribed" as if it is a medication, so parents are far more likely to make reading aloud a part of their daily routines.

Our doctors make literacy development a standard part of pediatric primary care.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

There are several ways to give a disadvantaged child the chance to read and succeed:

- Adopt-a-Program: Sponsor one of our 74 Connecticut Reach Out and Read programs located at medical clinics that predominantly serve low-income families. Annual program costs range from $5,000 — $60,000 depending on clinic size.
- Become a Book Buddy: Our Book Buddy program offers an easy way to share the gift of reading with children in need every month of the year. Set the amount once, and your donation will be charged automatically each month to help disadvantaged children throughout our state.
- Prescribe Literacy!: For every $100 donation, one child receives the full five years of Reach Out and Read including ten new books to take home and keep.

I can't tell you how grateful I am for all the books your program has provided. You should see the looks of surprise and joy on those faces, especially parents! Bilingual books in Spanish and Creole/French provide a sense of empowerment for families who may feel uneasy reading in English. [Reach Out and Read's] program and purpose is the same reason why I became a doctor — to be there for those who may not have access to privileges that many of us take for granted. Thank you. Your partnership has given this joy to families!

OUR MISSION: Pancreatic cancer is the 4th deadliest cancer and has the worst survival rate of all cancers. Our mission is to fund medical research leading to improve diagnosis and treatment of pancreatic cancer and find a cure for this terrible disease. We are also committed to raising public awareness of pancreatic cancer through education and providing direct financial aid to pancreatic cancer patients in need.

Ron Foley Foundation
Fighting Pancreatic Cancer

Established in memory of Ron Foley, who lost his battle with pancreatic cancer in 2005, the Foundation bearing his name is dedicated to promoting early detection and, ultimately, finding a cure through ongoing research. Inspiration for the first fundraising event — a Kentucky Derby party in 2009 — came when those closest to Ron felt they could harness the generosity of his spirit to raise funds for pancreatic cancer research. Encouraged by the success of that initial Derby Day gathering, and with the support of family, friends and dedicated volunteers, Ron's widow, Barbara Foley, formed the Foundation, which was granted 501(c)3 status in 2010.

GOALS

- Facilitate a collaborative partnership between major Connecticut hospitals, cancer centers and research facilities to pursue shared research of pancreatic cancer.
- Aggressively seek increased donations to the "Ron's Rescue Fund" so that we can give more financial aid to Connecticut pancreatic cancer patients and broaden our reach to those in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York and New Jersey.
- Initiate an annual lecture series for the general public featuring presenters with expertise about pancreatic cancer.
- Collaborate with other pancreatic cancer non-profits across the country and internationally who share our goals of improving diagnosis and treatment of pancreatic cancer and ultimately finding a cure.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

Ron's Run for the Roses is the Foundation's signature fundraising event — a Kentucky Derby day afternoon gala held at Folly Farm, a beautiful equestrian center in Simsbury. Since its inception in the Foley family's backyard in 2009 with 75 guests, the event has grown to more than 450 guests at this year's event and has raised more than $1,000,000 over the past seven years. A major element of the event is raising money for the Foundation's Ron's Rescue Fund. Established in 2012, donations to this restricted fund are dedicated solely to providing financial assistance to patients fighting pancreatic cancer and to help alleviate any financial burdens.

Hailed as the "premier Connecticut Derby Day event", the 8th annual Ron's Run for the Roses is on May 7, 2016 and will feature southern fare, Derby-style fashion, live and silent auctions and the live viewing of the Kentucky Derby on a 10 foot screen. Sponsorship opportunities at various levels are available for corporations, businesses, Foundations and individuals. Premium tables and individual tickets are also available. We also welcome donations of items for our auctions, in-kind donations of products and services for the event as well as people who would like to volunteer in our office or at our events. For more information, please contact the Foundation at info@ronsrun.org or 860-521-0500.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

The Foundation welcomes donations throughout the year including but not limited to the following:

- Corporate and business sponsorships
- Giving through United Way Campaigns
- Corporate Giving and Matching Gift Programs
- Contributions In Memory/Honor of Loved Ones
- Endowments and Legacy Giving with the Ron Foley Foundation noted as benefactor
- Donation of shares of stock. For more information, please contact Janney Montgomery Scott LLC at 860-561-6374

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

The Foundation is an all volunteer-based organization, therefore volunteer opportunities vary in so many ways including office support, event planning, set-up, and grant writing. In 2016, we will be looking for athletes and runners to participate in the Hartford Marathon to raise money for the Foundation.

"Pancreatic cancer is such a devastating diagnosis, that there is really no way a family can possibly prepare for it. It is an awful combination of fear and emotional and financial stress that can easily seem overwhelming. The one bright spot in this journey so far has been our discovery that so many people are willing to help. As we face this challenge, it has been a great comfort not to face it alone. The gift from the Ron Foley Foundation is going to make it possible for me to keep my family living with the utilities necessary for life today. Thank you, thank you, and thank you."

SCIENCE CENTER & ACADEMY

High atop Talcott Mountain in Avon, Connecticut, stands an important educational resource for the region — the Talcott Mountain Science Center & Academy. Once a NIKE missile site representing technology in the service of national defense, the mountaintop now hosts a unique, private, non-profit educational and research facility that launches minds on voyages of inquiry and discovery. Committed to stimulating the minds of its students through a “hands-on” approach to science teaching and learning, Talcott Mountain Science Center, founded in 1967, educates students with the knowledge and the skills they will need to master the challenges of tomorrow’s world. Among its major educational innovations include the founding of Talcott Mountain Academy in 1983; an institution geared toward the unique needs of gifted students. Today, it is a major division of the Center that functions as a laboratory school for grades K through 8.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES.

- On the Shoulders of Giants: This lecture series provides a forum for the general public to interact with and learn from scientists, astronauts, Nobel Laureates, explorers and other industry experts. Groups are encouraged to attend and sponsorships are available.

Examples include an emergency radio operator teaching Amateur Radio and Wireless Communications to students during their enrichment time; a college History major coaching students on their History Day projects; and a college engineering student completing their co-op with us by writing and teaching a 3D-design course. We also welcome volunteers with specific skills who can help with maintenance and repair of scientific equipment.

I have found Talcott to be a wonderful place where inquisitive minds are nurtured. Simply put, it is a school where fast learners can run at their own pace. Every day, our child comes home excited about a new fact or principle learned in science. But, it is not just about science. Students also receive a comprehensive curriculum in math, reading, writing, social studies, music, and art using both traditional methods, AND the latest technologies ... computers and iPads for every student in class really bring lessons to life! Talcott is a place where discovery abounds and learning is contagious.

THE TOWN and COUNTY CLUB SCHOLARSHIP FUND

A fund at The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving

Recognizing the value of a college education to a woman's ability to meet her personal and professional goals and to achieve financial independence, we created this scholarship fund over 15 years ago to assist Hartford-area women aged 24 or older who are actively pursuing an undergraduate college degree at a college in the Greater Hartford area. To date, over $175,000 in scholarship awards have been awarded to 84 deserving women.

We take great pride in the dedication, hard work and success of these women, the majority of whom were both working and raising a family as they pursued their education. Here are a few of their stories:

I am a grateful double recipient of the Town and County Club Scholarship which enabled me to complete my education at the University of Saint Joseph in 2014. In 2015 I graduated with a Master's Degree in Social Work from the University of Connecticut. I am now employed as a clinician at the Village for Families and Children, providing specialized care to families with young children struggling with trauma.

~ Princess Russell-Blidgen

I knew I would need an education to provide a better life for my two children. I felt empowered and passionate to further my studies, but my finances were strained. I was blessed to receive two scholarships from the Town and County Club. I received my first scholarship while a part-time student at Manchester Community College and the second one when I was a student at the University of Connecticut – Hartford, enabling me to earn my BS in Human Development and Family Studies in May 2015.

~ Michelle Wallen

As a first generation college student, breaking the mold was incredibly challenging. I worked tirelessly to pay for school. My two Town and County Club scholarships provided me financial assistance when I needed it most. I graduated in May 2015 from the Hartt School of the University of Hartford with a Bachelor of Music. I now give back by teaching nearly 400 students every week at the Goodwin College Early Childhood Magnet School. Only time will tell the full ripple impact of what the Town and County Scholarships have done.

~ Camille Camire

This scholarship impacted my life in many ways. I was a single mother, working full-time and helping to put my daughter through college while I was also trying to complete my own education at Trinity College. This scholarship allowed me to continue my own studies. I graduated magna cum laude, with honors in history in 2013. I am now in my third year at University of Connecticut Law School — attending nights, of course!

*ALICE is a United Way-coined acronym meaning Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed. The success of children and adults in ALICE households is critical to our entire community's success. Yet, despite working hard, the tough choices ALICE households face limit their opportunities to succeed.

- Provide access to immediate emergency assistance to meet basic needs, such as food and shelter.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

Each year more than 400 local workplaces and tens of thousands of individuals participate in the United Way Campaign. Together, we raised more than $24 million in 2014. To showcase our partners' accomplishments in the community, the United Way Best Of Awards are held each year. Other fundraising events include:

Our United Way Women's Leadership Council's signature event features an auction of high-end purses; time to network with professional and philanthropic leaders; and the event raises money to support two family financial centers in Hartford.

Spin for Kids — An annual spin-a-thon featuring teams of costumed cyclists, this United Way Emerging Leaders Society event raises money to support United Way's programs and initiatives helping kids succeed in school and in life.

CONNECTING OUR COMMUNITY TO THE WORLD!

For over 90 years, The World Affairs Council of Connecticut (WACCT) has been connecting our community to the world. The Council provides public programs on critical issues which impact both our local communities and the world at large. We need your help to bring discussions on pressing global issues to you and bring people together in conversation about the world we live in.

The World Affairs Council of Connecticut

1049 Asylum Avenue, Hartford, CT 06105 | 860-241-6118
www.ctwac.org

OUR MISSION: The World Affairs Council of Connecticut (WACCT) engages the Greater Hartford community in global issues and promotes greater understanding of the world. WACCT is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization.

Established in 1924, WACCT is a member of the World Affairs Councils of America, a network of nearly 100 councils that together comprise the largest global affairs nonprofit organization in the U.S.

WACCT hosts programs and discussions on critical global issues that impact the local community and the world at large. The Council also works with Connecticut schools to provide programs for students and educators that increase awareness of our world and the challenges facing us as global citizens.

What We Do

WACCT is a connector within the community, linking you to the global resources we have both here in our state and across the world. We do this in a variety of ways, including our public programs.

Global Programs — International political, economic, cultural, business, and financial trends

- Our programs give you unparalleled access to some of the world's most distinguished speakers: Recent speakers hosted at WACCT have included Henry Kissinger, Ambassador Ryan Crocker, Ted Turner, Red Sox President & CEO Larry Lucchino, General David Petraeus, and former Speaker of the House Nancy Pelosi.
- The Council hosts a variety of programs that help the community navigate the global landscape including: Global Discussions Series, Executive Forums, business luncheons, roundtables, Global Trivia and Hot Issue Happy Hours that address the world's most critical issues.
- Luminary Award: Our signature annual event honors individuals and organizations that have had a profound impact on global affairs.

Education Outreach

The World Affairs Council works to promote international education in CT through programs and services that provide a global perspective for students and teachers. Our flagship program is the annual Model United Nations, in which thousands of Connecticut students have participated over the past 60 years. This interactive program calls on students to represent member U.N. countries and lets them experience the inner workings of international policy-making. A highlight is the annual trip to the U.N. WACCT also provides teacher trips abroad, workshops for students, and global curriculum development.

Why World Affairs?

Understanding global affairs is essential to navigating today's complex world. Global issues are local issues and the world is more connected than ever before. Whether it is unrest impacting gas prices, foreign trade regulations, global health outbreaks, terrorism or cybercrime, what happens around the world affects us all. The World Affairs Council of CT is the only institution in the greater Hartford area dedicated to this mission.

(Above) General David Petraeus speaks to the Council in 2009. (Right) Participating students in the World Affairs Council's Model U.N. program.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

The Council has a variety of ways for businesses and the public to contribute to the success of the Council and take a stand on behalf of global education in our state!

- Program Sponsorship: WACCT holds between 20-30 programs each year, which cover a variety of critical global topics! There are sponsorship opportunities for each program.
- Luminary Award: Each year, the Council holds its annual Luminary Award, which honors an individual or organization that has worked towards the overall betterment of the world. There are many corporate and individual sponsorship opportunities at the Luminary Award.
- Model United Nations: There are opportunities to support the Council's Model United Nations program, which engages over 700 high school students from across the state!

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

Individual Donations: The Council accepts general fund donations from businesses and individuals at any time!

Endowment: The council is working hard on securing a solid future by building its endowment fund. We accept outright gifts as well as legacy gifts.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

We encourage the public to volunteer with our organization! WACCT volunteers help us at programs and our Model United Nations. There are a variety of projects and tasks for volunteers to engage with the Council on. We encourage volunteers to be WACCT Ambassadors to the community, letting their social networks know about the critical work the Council does!
